MATERIALS & FINISHES

The Surface.

The complete library
Berco · 2026 Edition

A finish is not a colour. It is how a surface behaves.

This is the complete library – 304 finishes, grouped by the material each one is actually made from, because that is what decides how it wears, where it belongs, and what it costs to put right if it is specified into the wrong room. Colours here are a guide. The physical sample is the decision.

Three layers, one decision.

Nearly every door in this book is the same three things: a core, a face, and an edge. The face is what you see and what this book shows. The core decides how the door carries weight and handles moisture. The edge is where cheap cabinetry gives itself away first.

The core

11-layer plywood. Carries the load, holds the screw, and decides how the door copes with a wet room.

The face

Melamine, film, lacquer, UV, veneer, leather. What you see, touch and clean – and what this book is about.

The edge

Banded, wrapped or laser-bonded. The first thing to lift on a poor door, and the last on a good one.

Specifying a finish

Every swatch in this book carries its material code. Put the code and the name on your schedule and it can be checked straight against the specification – no translation, no ambiguity between two finishes with similar names.

For example – PWMA0610 Almond White, 18 mm melamine.

How this book works.

Two schemes, then the edge

Start here. Two palettes shown as complete schemes, then the four ways a door edge can be finished – the detail that decides how cabinetry ages.

Part One – The Selection

The range edited down to what works together. Each family opens with a room, then shows what it looks like as cabinetry, then the finishes themselves.

Part Two – The Complete Range

Everything else we hold, grouped by material and set in a denser grid for looking something up rather than choosing from.

Codes and the index

Every swatch carries its material code. Put the code and the name on a schedule and it can be checked straight against the specification. The A-Z index at the back lists all of them with a page number.

SCHEME ONE

Warm Neutral

The scheme that suits most houses — warm, quiet, and hard to tire of. A pale door, an oak to warm it, white stone, and a light box behind.

The scheme.

Four surfaces chosen to sit together – a door, a contrast, a worktop and the box behind them. Change one and the balance moves.

THE CARCASE

PWGA0017

Everything here is a flat finish, so the scheme is calm rather than busy. If a room is dark, swap the door for the same tone in high-gloss UV and it will give the light back.

SCHEME TWO

Dark & Quiet

Restraint at the dark end. Smoked oak against a deep gloss, held down by pale stone so the room never closes in.

The scheme.

Four surfaces chosen to sit together – a door, a contrast, a worktop and the box behind them. Change one and the balance moves.

Dark schemes live or die on light. Keep the worktop pale, keep one run open, and specify the soft-matt skin on the gloss if the kitchen faces south.

Four ways to finish an edge.

The edge is where cheap cabinetry gives itself away first – a lifted band, a dark glue-line, a swollen corner by the sink. Every family solves it differently, and the right answer depends on the door, not the price.

Banded

MELAMINE

Rehau tape on a Homag machine with Jowat PUR adhesive. PUR rather than hot-melt, so no black glue-line and a tighter moisture seal. Laser-sealed zero-joint available on premium lines.

Wrapped

THERMOFOIL

No band at all – the film is one continuous piece over the whole door, so there is no seam that can lift.

Sprayed

LACQUER

The colour runs around the arris. Nothing is applied to the edge, because the edge is the same sprayed surface as the face.

Coated

POWDER

Powder flows around all six sides and cures hard, wrapping the edge and continuing onto the back face.

Ask which edge you are getting. On a wet run it matters more than the colour, and it is the one detail a photograph will never show you.

PART ONE

The Selection.

54 finishes we would put in front of you first — the range edited down to what actually works together. Everything we hold follows in Part Two.

FAMILY 01

Double-Faced Melamine

A hard-wearing decorative surface pressed onto board. The everyday workhorse — scratch-resistant, colour-stable, and the broadest palette we carry.

In cabinetry.

The same board, made into a door. What the edge does, how the pull is formed, and how it reads down a full-height run in raking light.

The edge

Rehau tape laid on a Homag machine with Jowat PUR adhesive. No black glue-line, and a tighter moisture seal than hot-melt.

The pull

A routed finger recess in the same board — no handle to date the kitchen.

The run

Schattdecor decor, grain matched across adjacent doors so a tall run reads as one surface.

BEST FOR

Everyday runs that take daily contact — family kitchens, wardrobes, back-of-house. The broadest palette we carry, anti-fingerprint matt, and the best value-to-durability of the flat finishes.

THINK TWICE

A shaped or profiled door. Melamine is a flat pressed sheet, so a moulded front wants thermofoil or lacquer instead. In a consistently wet zone, ask for the laser-sealed zero-joint edge.

FAMILY 02

Vacuum-Formed & Pre-Finished Film

A film wrapped over a shaped MDF core. Seamless around profiles and edges, which makes it the choice for shaker and detailed door styles.

In cabinetry.

The same board, made into a door. What the edge does, how the pull is formed, and how it reads down a full-height run in raking light.

No edge at all

The film wraps the door as one continuous piece. There is no band, so there is nothing to lift or peel in ten years.

The profile

It follows a routed shaker or arched front exactly — the reason this family owns the classic door.

The sheen

A low satin lustre with a fine embossed grain that follows the print.

BEST FOR

Shaker, arched and any profiled door, and the wardrobe workhorse. Heat- and stain-resistant, wipe-clean, good moisture behaviour.

THINK TWICE

Very large flat slab doors, where a pressed board sits flatter. Sustained direct heat right at a hob edge.

FAMILY 03

Baked Lacquer

Sprayed and oven-cured colour on an MDF core. The deepest, most even colour we offer, and the family to specify when the colour itself is the design.

In cabinetry.

The same board, made into a door. What the edge does, how the pull is formed, and how it reads down a full-height run in raking light.

No band

Sprayed on an Italian ICA line, so the colour runs around the arris. There is no edge tape anywhere on the door.

The depth

Primer and multiple topcoats in Sherwin-Williams or BASF paint – the deepest, most even colour we offer.

Around a shape

Spray follows a curve no sheet material could wrap, at the same colour and sheen throughout.

BEST FOR

When the colour itself is the design. High hardness, oil-resistant, easy-clean, and available matt, gloss or metallic.

THINK TWICE

A knock on a sharp corner shows more than on a wrapped door, and the repair is a respray rather than a swap.

FAMILY 04

High-Gloss UV

A cured high-clarity surface with real depth of reflection. Bounces light into a room, which earns its place in smaller or darker kitchens.

In cabinetry.

The same board, made into a door. What the edge does, how the pull is formed, and how it reads down a full-height run in raking light.

Mirror flat

A cured acrylic surface near 90% gloss. Flat as glass — none of the orange-peel texture sprayed gloss can carry.

Gloss or soft-matt

The same colour in both skins. Soft-matt resists fingerprints; gloss returns the light.

What it gives back

It throws daylight back into the room, which is why it earns its place in a smaller or darker kitchen.

BEST FOR

Smaller or darker kitchens. Colour-fast, and because the UV film fully cures it does not keep off-gassing the way ordinary lacquer can.

THINK TWICE

A long south-facing run shows every fingerprint and any ripple in the substrate. Specify the soft-matt skin if that worries you.

11-LAYER PLYWOOD · FACED BOTH SIDES · ALUMINIUM KICKBOARD

The box behind the door, and the part that decides whether a kitchen is still square in ten years. Berco builds carcasses in plywood rather than board — strongest in bending, tightest against moisture, best screw-hold. Specified separately from the front, so the interior can match or deliberately contrast.

FAMILY 08

Worktops

The surface that takes the most punishment in the house.
Non-porous, so wine, oil and vinegar sit on top rather than soak in.
Two of these are zero-silica.

In cabinetry.

The same board, made into a door. What the edge does, how the pull is formed, and how it reads down a full-height run in raking light.

The edge

A 20 mm machined edge with the veining running over it – full-body stone, not a printed surface layer.

The cut-out

Cut on a CNC bridge to ± 0.1 mm, the aperture square to the top and the internal corner turned to a consistent radius.

The surface

Honed, dense and non-porous, so wine, oil and vinegar sit on top rather than soak in.

BEST FOR

The hardest-working surface in the house. Quartz in 20 mm, sintered stone in 12 and 20 mm – and four of the quartz options are zero-silica.

THINK TWICE

Quartz is heat-resistant, not heatproof – use a trivet, since the resins soften around 150 °C. Sintered stone takes more, but the habit is the same.

Choosing.

See it in your own light

Every screen and every printed page shifts colour. Before anything is ordered we put the physical sample in your room, against your floor and your worktop, and look at it in daylight and at night. The sample is the decision, not this book.

Match the surface to the room

A wet room, a south-facing wall and a low-traffic dressing room are three different problems. We will tell you where a finish is the wrong choice, including when that means talking you out of the one you arrived wanting.

Availability changes

Ranges are added to and retired by the mill. We confirm that a finish is current and orderable at the point of quoting, and we will say so plainly if something you have chosen has been discontinued.

Start your project.

01 Bring the codes

Note the code and name of anything you like. We will confirm it is current and orderable before it goes on a quote.

02 See the samples

We put the physical pieces in your room, against your floor and your light. Nothing is ordered from a printed page.

03 We measure and draw

A survey, then drawings you can check – with the finishes, the edges and the carcass named on them, not described vaguely.

04 One team to turnover

The people who draw it coordinate the make and the install, so there is one point of accountability from first drawing to handover.

Where each family belongs.

Counted from the approvals on every finish in this book — how many in each family the mill clears for each room. A low count is not a warning, but it is worth asking about before a finish goes somewhere wet.

Figures are counts of finishes, not a durability rating.

Living with it.

Every day

A soft cloth and warm water. Wipe spills when they happen rather than later — most staining is a timing problem, not a material problem.

Never

Abrasive creams, scouring pads, bleach, or anything solvent-based. They dull a matt finish and micro-scratch a gloss one, and neither comes back.

Heat

Use a trivet. Quartz is heat-resistant to roughly 300°F, but a pan straight off the flame can still mark it. Sintered stone takes more, but the habit is the same.

Water

Wipe standing water from joints and around the sink. The board behind any finish is the part that minds, and the edge is where it gets in.

Sunlight

Strong direct sun will move most colours over years. It is worth knowing before you put a dark lacquer on a south-facing run.

If something goes wrong

Tell us early. A lifted edge or a swollen corner caught in the first week is a repair; caught in the first year it is usually a replacement.
